

Frontend Web Development

HTML describes the structure and visual content of a web page

CSS gives a web page style such as color, fonts, and positioning.

CSS gives a web page interactive features and dynamically updates content.